JACOB F. RANDOLPH, President

In the Legislature.

On Tuesday in the Senate the School law was amended so as to allow election of Trustees.

Several new bills have been introduced relating to interest on mortgages, taxation, etc. One of these allows land owners in the "Five Counties" to make agreements with regard to tax.

On Monday night the House passed the bill calling a Constitutional Convention. Also a bill to revoke liquor seller's licenses in cases where liquor is sold on Sunday.

On Tuesday the bill which repeals the present law regulating time of holding Bloomfield town elections passed to its third reading.

The Sunday Excursion Bill, permitting only the two regular railway trains on Sunday, passed the House, Messrs. Cross, Dodd, Paterson and Van Rensselaer of Essex voting against it. There was earnest debate on its final passage.

Mr. Rabe, opposing it, was surprised that such a bill should be presented in this enlightened nineteenth century. It was wrong to introduce it in this Centennial year, when people from all countries are coming on a visit to us, and who are used to traveling on Sundays when at home.

Mr. Drake vigorously advocated the bill. He said it was true that it is the Centennial year, and it is because of that that the bill is introduced. We propose to show our foreign visitors that we don't do all things here as they are done in Europe in violation of the Sabbath day. There is scarcely a member of this Legislature but what has introduced petitions in favor of this bill, and he had not seen a petition against the bill.

Mr. Lewis eloquently urged the passage of the bill. He said the Great Lawgiver had given us the law—remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy, and shall we on the Centennial year pass a law to break down that law, or attempt to legislate against the Great Law-giver? In allowing two trains to run each way daily we have trespassed on the Great Law-giver. Recreation is not rest. The foreigners visiting us will get a better impression of our country if they see the people keeping the Sabbath. Let us show our children that we believe in the Great Law-giver and have respect for Him and His laws. The bill was passed by the vote of 32 to 22.

A concurrent resolution fixing the adjournment of the Legislature at noon on Friday April 14, was almost unanimous-passed.

An attempt to reconsider the Sunday excursion bill was tabled.

Mr. Moody's Christian Convention.

This Convention met in the Hippodrome, New York, on Wednesday morning, and was attended by a great many eminent ministers and laymen, the whole attendance numbering thousands. Mr. Moody addressed the assembled multitude on "How to Conduct Services" and answered many questions. He declared against church fairs as detrimental to wholesome religion and advocated disciplining delinquent church members, even to the extremity of turning them out of the church. Some questions he declined to answer, because they were on controverted points, and advised one delegate, who insisted on having his question answered, to call a convention himself.

The afternoon session had more than seven thousand attendants including delegates. Dr. Fish of Newark opened the subject for the first hour's discussion, "Inquiry Meetings; how can they become part of the service in our churches." Rev. Dr. R. R. Booth followed, and elicited immense applause by saying that if the work of revival could go on for six months longer the New York police force might be disbanded. Before the second question was taken up, Mr. Sankey sang "Waiting and Watching for Me." The simple pathos of the hymn drew tears to the eyes of many of the delegates.

At the evening session Mr. Moody said "Let us open the meeting by singing the centennial hymn 'Rock of Ages,' published a hundred years ago this month." After the hymn had been sung, he read from a card that a little boy who had been lost in the crowd would find his mother in one of the inquiry rooms; adding, "and every lost sinner will find Christ knocking at his heart to-night. A delegate prayed and Mr. Sankey sang "Free from the law, oh, happy condition," the congregation joining in the chorus. Mr. Moody read part of the 6th chapter of Isaiah and prayed, and Mr. Sankey sang the "Ninety and Nine." Then Mr. Moody preached from the word "Behold," which, he said, was never used in the Bible except when something very important was to follow.

State Items.

A Trenton correspondent of the N. Y. Times, thinks the N. J. Democracy are in favor of Hendricks for President next to Gov. Parker, and that the Republicans incline to Blaine.

Miss Emma Lehman of Hoboken, who attempted to blind her recreant lover, Robert Idell, by throwing red pepper in his eyes has now had him arrested for larceny. When the lovers became engaged, Idell presented his sweetheart with a diamond ring, which he afterward took from her.

A disastrous boiler explosion occurred in Newark Tuesday afternoon in the tool works of H. Sauerbier, Mechanic street. The calamity happened at 2 P. M., when 45 men were at work on the premises, one of whom was killed and eight others severely injured. The building was shattered throughout and other buildings in the vicinity damaged by the explosion, the boiler being a large one and filled with steam at a very high pressure. The accident is attributed to the false registry of a steam gauge which was out of order. It was examined by an agent one hour before the explosion, and the engineer cautioned not to be governed by it.

A powerful revival is in progress at Newburg, N. Y.

Centennial Sunday School Convention.

A grand Centennial Sunday School Convention, under the auspices of the N. J. S. S. Association, will be held at Ocean Grove commencing Saturday, July 22d, and closing Sunday evening, July 30th.

The design of the Assembly is the cementing of fraternal union among the workers of all evangelical denominations, the discussion of the needs, interests and methods of Sunday School work, and a brief but thorough and comprehensive course of normal instruction.

A large number of the most eminent Sunday School workers in the land have signified their intention to be present, and aid in making it an occasion of interest and profit to all. Further details will be given in due season.

The Normal Department will be under the direction of Rev. J. H. Vincent, D. D., assisted by Rev. G. A. Peltz, J. B. Tyler, Rev. Warren Randolph, D. D., and other distinguished teachers.

Frank Beard, the well-known artist of the "Illustrated Christian Weekly," will be present and give his inimitable "Chalk Expositions."

The Department of Oriental Illustration will be under the charge of Rev. J. S. Ostrander, who will exhibit and explain Scriptural Archæology and Customs, by beautiful and extensive illustrative appliances, including large models of Palestine, Jerusalem, Tabernacle, Beautiful Gate, etc. Many of them are upon new and original plans.

A museum under the direction of J. C. Middleton, Esq., director of the S. S. Department of the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia, will contain specimens of all that is now desirable or valuable in S. S. appliances, furnished by the publishing houses of all denominations.

The music will be under the direction of Prof. Wm. F. Sherwin, assisted by several eminent leaders, and aided by a distinguished Cornet Soloist.

The most ample arrangements are made for the comfortable entertainment of all who may participate. Full board can be obtained in hotels and boarding houses at from $9 to $12; in cottages at from $7 to $8. Transient board at hotels $2 and $3 per day; cottages $1,50 to $2.

Frequent trains will be run to Long Branch, Squan and adjacent stations on the shore.

Tents on application to the Committee, at very low rates.

Ample time will be allowed each day for ocean bathing, etc.

No charge will be made for admission to any of the public exercises or normal classes. To defray necessary expenses a slight charge will be made for admission to the tent of Illustrative Instruction.

Its close connection by rail with Philadelphia and New-York will make it accessible not only to those who can give it the whole time, but to workers who can come only for a day or two.
